Doctor warns that cuts to beds would threaten junior doctor training

Fears over maternity changes

A FORMER Horton General Hospital doctor fears maternity services could again be under threat because of new service changes.

Dr Peter Fisher is concerned moves to cut gynaecology beds from 12 to six would threaten junior doctor training.

Bosses say medical advances mean fewer overnight stays and "invasive" procedures are needed and changes would provide more services in Banbury.

Yet Dr Fisher fears this could see training accreditation removed from the hospital, putting its doctor-led maternity service at risk. Managers said it would boost training opportunities. A bid by Oxford Radcliffe Hospitals

NHS Trust to downgrade maternity services was thrown out in 2008.

Dr Fisher, of the Keep The Horton General campaign, said: "Recognition for obstetrics is very much in the balance.

"If the training in gynaecology is regarded as being downgraded, then we will be in trouble."

He warned putting the six remaining beds in a mixed-sex surgical ward would see women seen by less skilled non-specialist nurses.

Beds would not be for gynaecology patients only, leading the former general physician, who retired in the 1990s, to say: "There could be potential problems with finding beds for people."

Hospital bosses say the changes would reflect services at Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital, reduce admissions and introduce new diagnostic procedures.

And they have been welcomed by the Oxfordshire joint health overview and scrutiny committee watchdog, which refused to order a full consultation.

It acknowledged nurses' concerns over "privacy and dignity" by using a general ward for beds but urged staff and managers to work together.

Bosses have pledged to use screens and partitions to ensure single-sex accommodation.

Committee chairman Dr Peter Skolar said of training concerns: "It is actually the exact opposite; they are increasing the throughput of patients."

A trust spokesman also said more patients would safeguard doctor training and a specialist nurse would be on the surgical ward and nurses would be trained.

Andrew Stevens, trust director of planning and information, said plans would "improve the services for gynaecology patients in the north of the county and give better equality of services between Oxford and Banbury".

Pupils present a life-saver

PUPILS have handed over potentially life-saving equipment to a Banbury hospital. Youngsters at Bloxham Primary School raised £258 for the Oxfordshire Stillbirth and Neonatal Death Charity to help pay for three heartbeat monitors for midwives to use on unborn babies.

Their teacher, Karen Hancox, inspired the youngsters through her work with the charity.

Mrs Hancox, 33, who teaches at the school, and her husband, Neil, were left devastated after their daughter, Kayleigh was stillborn in November, 2007.

In 2008 they set up the Angel Gifts

Appeal and raised more than £10,000 to build a public children's memorial in the Snowdrop Garden, Hardwick Hill Crematorium, where Kayleigh's ashes are buried, as well as paying for monitoring equipment for the Horton's maternity unit.

Since then Mrs Hancox has thrown herself into campaigning for the Sands charity.

She said: "The Bloxham school council presented Clare Pagett, the delivery suite manager at the Horton maternity unit, with a foetal heartbeat monitor (pictured right).

"If all the hard work helps to save just one baby's life, then it was all worth it."

News in brief

A CONCERT in aid of Katharine House Hospice, featuring stars of stage and screen, will be held at Tudor Hall School, Banbury, on October 22. Come Into the Garden - An Evening of Words and Music will include Midsomer Murders actor Jane Booker, Casualty's Paul Greenwood and Persuasion's John Woodvine. The North Cotswold Chamber Choir will also perform. Tickets, at £12, are available from (01295) 812161 and khh.org.uk

CHILTERN Railways' staff raised £330 for Macmillan Cancer Support's Big Coffee Morning campaign. Workers at the company's control centre, in Merton Street, Banbury, and colleagues at the Wembley train depot in London staged a series of events.

A 27-year-old burglar has had his sentencing postponed. David French, of Park Road, Banbury, broke in to a property in Albert Street, Banbury, and stole a Sky box, remote control and milk. The same day he also set fire to a shed, stole a bicycle and smashed a window at the Banbury RAFA club. French, who admitted burglary, theft, arson and criminal damage, appeared at Oxford Crown Court but his sentencing was postponed until November 18.

Neighbours' rap for school land sell-off

By Oliver Evans

NEIGHBOURS have hit out at plans by Banbury School to sell part of its playing field for houses.

The school wants to sell part of its playing field bordering Springfield Avenue to finance £750,000 improvements to sports facilities.

The school said it did not know how many homes would go on the site, next to its former Stanbridge Hall, which is being redeveloped for 70 flats for OAPs.

Principal Dr Fiona Hammans said the school had a surplus of playing field land.

But some Springfield Avenue residents criticised the plan. Nurse Claire Hunt, 43, said: "It is a big school, surely they need that amount of ground for the number of children they have got there."

James Crain, 57, said: "I'm not in favour of the sell-off. It is nice and peaceful when the kids are not there.

"They have already done something with Stanbridge Hall. They didn't say they were going to sell the field off. My garden is going to be overlooked." An exhibition on the plans will be held at the Ruskin Road school next Wednesday, from 3.30pm to about 7pm.

Dr Hammans said the sell-off was needed because the school missed out on a major £20m refurbishment programme because of Government cuts.

It was hoping for the cash under Labour's national Building Schools for the Future scheme, which the coalition massively scaled back.

Dr Hammans said: "The changing rooms are desperately in need of extending. The sports hall needs refurbishment, it is like something out of the 1950s."

The cash would also pay for an all-weather pitch near Bloxham Road.

Homes plan returns after policy ruling

CONTROVERSIAL plans to build 65 homes in Adderbury have returned, with a developer saying a planning policy ruling could now work in its favour.

Residents are furious at the new bid by Berkeley Homes for homes at land off Milton Road, saying it would ruin their countryside views.

The development would also include a sports pitch, which could be offered to Adderbury Park Football Club.

The developer's first plan was rejected at Cherwell District Council and then on appeal at The Planning Inspectorate last year.

Inspectors partly refused the appeal because they said the council could probably show it had earmarked land to meet housing need over five years.

But the developer now argues the council does not have enough sites to meet this need.

It points to the inspector's ruling in favour of a 140-homes plan for Talisman Road, Bicester, which said the supply was likely to be under five years.

And Berkeley said developments at Bankside in Banbury and south west of Bicester were unlikely to progress quickly enough.

Taking into account new Government demand for housing, this leaves the council 1,239 units short of its 4,423 target, some 3.6 years of supply, it said.

The council rejected the plan last year as it would cause "harm to the character and appearance of the countryside".

St Mary's Road residents hit out at the plan.

Janet Tew, 71, whose garden backs on to the site, said: "It is dreadful, as everyone was so pleased when it was refused.

"There will be so much more traffic and people. There are no facilities here."

Margaret Williams, 86, whose home overlooks the field, said: "It is going to completely alter our way of life. We won't have a village if we go on like this, we will be a suburb of Banbury."

‘Criminals will be relentlessly pursued. We will visit them every day’

Get-tough pledge of police chief

CRIMINALS in Bicester are getting daily visits from the police to make sure they stay on the right side of the law.

Cherwell's new police boss, Superintendent Andy Boyd, has warned those who commit, or are suspected of committing crime, that they will be "pursued relentlessly" in a bid to reduce crime in the district.

And he has not ruled out visiting offenders at their homes himself.

Supt Boyd officially started his new role on Monday but has been acting superintendent for about six weeks.

He said: "Those that are out there committing crime will have already noticed a difference in the last six weeks."

"What they have been experiencing recently is going to continue."

"They have been regularly visited at their home address and made to feel uncomfortable."

"Our job is to stop them

By Sam McGregor

committing crime to enable the people of Cherwell to live in peace and not feel threatened or intimidated.

"Some believe they are free to go out and commit crime at will. It's important to us to demonstrate to them that that is not acceptable."

"It is also important that victims of crime understand, and recognise, that we will challenge those people who think they can get away with it."

He refused to say how many people had daily visits from officers, but said it was a minority of troublemakers known to the police, across Bicester.

Supt Boyd said: "A lot of criminals are visited every day, some more than once a day, because we want to know where they are, what they are doing."

"We will relentlessly pursue them."

Supt Boyd has been with Thames Valley Police for 26 years and has spent the majority of that time working in Oxfordshire.

He was a detective chief inspector at St Aldates Police Station, Oxford, for many years, and most recently was chief inspector in the Vale of the White Horse – which covers areas including Abingdon and Wantage.

There, he saw crime rates drop by 18 per cent over the three years he was in charge.

But he has ruled out continuing an initiative he started in the Vale, whereby he bought and delivered a cake to criminals on their birthday – with a message warning them to stay out of trouble or risk jail.

Supt Boyd said his priorities for Cherwell were protecting vulnerable people, challenging criminals and reducing crime.

He said: "Cherwell has a very low crime rate, per head of the population, and is one of the safest areas to live."

"So maintaining that will be a real challenge."

Chairman on awards shortlist

CHILTERN Railways' chairman Adrian Shooter and Alan Newman, a duty manager at the firm's control centre in Banbury, are on the shortlist in Rail Staff newspaper's 2011 industry awards.

Mr Shooter, who is retiring in December after leading the firm since privatisation in 1996, is nominated in the lifetime achievement category. Alan Newman, who helps keep trains on the move from the Merton Street control centre, is nominated as rail manager of the year. A citation from colleagues said: "He is the 'go to' man in the team and is approachable, enthusiastic and helpful to all members of the team."

Four other Chiltern employees, based in Buckinghamshire and London, are also nominated for awards.

News in brief

A 23-year-old man has been charged with sexual assault on a 22-year-old man in the Warwick Road area of Banbury on September 25. Panneer Selvam Deepam, of Castle Street, Banbury, has been charged with the assault and for knowingly/recklessly trespassing with intent to commit a sexual offence. He has also been charged with obstructing or resisting a police officer in the execution of their duty, driving without a licence and driving with no insurance. Deepam appeared before Banbury Magistrates' Court and has been bailed to reappear on November 14.

BANBURY Town Council has been honoured by the Ministry of Defence. It was recognised by the MoD's Supporting Britain's Reservists and Employers campaign at an awards ceremony on Radley College on Monday of last week. At the event, Lord Lieutenant of Oxfordshire Mr Tim Stevenson appointed his new Lord Lieutenant Cadets and gave awards to reserve forces members and cadets.

Teething troubles see train times slump

PUNCTUALITY of Chiltern Railway trains slumped last month amid teething problems with new signals and the firm's new speeded-up timetable.

And the company is now planning timetable changes to improve reliability.

Just 87 per cent of Chiltern's trains reached their destinations on time between mid-August and mid-September, down from 93.2 per cent in the previous four weeks. In the same period last year, 97.3 per cent of the firm's trains ran on time.

Chiltern's new Mainline timetable, which was launched in September, was disrupted by a series of major faults affecting new signal equipment installed in August.

The new timetable brings Banbury within an hour of London, with some trains between Bicester North and London Marylebone completing the journey in under 45 minutes.

Services suffered long delays for several days, sending performance plummeting and dropping Chiltern from near the top of the rail punctuality league to third from bottom.

Of the 19 major rail firms, only East Coast, which links London with the North-east

By William Crossley

and Scotland, and Virgin, which operates between London, the West Midlands, the North West and Scotland, performed worse than Chiltern, with on-time performance of 86.7 and 82.1 per cent respectively.

However, Chiltern is now again heading in the right direction, with punctuality in the third week of September climbing to 89.87 per cent.

The figure would have been higher except for an incident when cows got on to the tracks, delaying a number of services.

A spokesman said: "The September 5 timetable change was the biggest in a decade.

"The disruption has been caused by a huge variety of different issues, including teething problems with our new infrastructure.

"As a result we've not been able to deliver our usual consistently reliable service.

"We are doing everything possible to get these issues resolved quickly."

A number of changes have already been made to the type of trains used on some services to help reduce overcrowding and Chiltern is planning a number of timetable alterations in December to improve reliability further.

Chris Bates, of the Cherwell Rail Users' Group, said: "Chiltern's performance has improved in the past couple of weeks, as they seem to have ironed out most of the bugs in the infrastructure.

"But they need to work a lot harder to improve performance to achieve the kind of punctuality passengers are used to and there isn't much recovery time allowed in the new timetable if there are problems in the future."

Meet the manager

CHILTERN Railways commuters can have a say about the recent changes to the firm's timetable at a "meet the manager" event later this month.

Senior staff will be at Banbury station from 6.30am to 9am on Thursday, October 20, to hear passengers' views and answer questions.

Cancer man's special bicycle stolen

Robbed of the chance of recovery

By Oliver Evans

A CANCER patient says his recovery will be damaged after thieves stole his special bicycle.

David Thornhill, 37, said the bike, which took him a year to design and build, had helped replace muscles removed along with 20 tumours from his left leg.

Yet it was stolen from the staff car park of Banbury's Oxford & Cherwell Valley College at 5pm on Monday of last week.

Mr Thornhill, who was diagnosed with aggressive fibromatosis seven years ago, said: "I am very upset, very angry and feel particularly bereft and powerless.

"If I can't cycle regularly, then muscle degeneration starts to occur. Only by cycling does it degenerate. If I can't keep mobility I could lose my leg."

Mr Thornhill, the college's course leader for graphic design, is now distributing 1,000 flyers around the college and town in a bid to get his prized possession returned.

A colleague at the Broughton Road college saw two men force the bike off a rack attached to the back of his car.

Mr Thornhill said: "My students are shocked at how somebody can walk away in the middle of the day after stealing a bike in front of people's eyes."

David Thornhill, whose custom-made bike was stolen from the rack on his car in the college car park

He makes a 50-mile round trip to and from work in the summer and has just returned from a massive ride around France.

Mr Thornhill says he manufactured the cycle frame from lightweight carbon fibre and was configured to suit his 6ft 4ins height.

The bike was "several years" in the planning and has special pedals, which lock to his cycling shoes.

Mr Thornhill – whose condition is being monitored by the Nuffield Orthopaedic Centre in Oxford – said that the theft also meant he would not be able to take part in a planned student cycle ride, from Whitehaven in the Lake District to Sunderland at Easter, without the bike.

Students have joined Mr Thornhill on charity bike rides for cancer charities, raising thousands of pounds.

The bike is a yellow Reef performance road bike, with Planet X written on the saddle.

Witnesses described seeing two white men in their late teens. One was wearing a bright yellow T-shirt.

Anyone with information should contact PC Samantha Devlin on 0845 8 505 505 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Flu jabs on offer to those at most risk

HEALTH bosses are planning to give an extra 8,500 flu jabs this year, in a bid to keep the county bug free.

NHS Oxfordshire is gearing up for flu season by urging at-risk people to get vaccinated.

Last year, GPs across the county gave 108,440 seasonal flu vaccines to eligible patients. This year they expect the number to rise to at least 116,902.

Local OAP Margaret Savage, who has a heart condition and uses an inhaler, has had the annual flu jab for the last eight years.

The 61-year-old urged all eligible people to get the jab, even if they felt fit and healthy.

She said: "If you do not get called and you normally have it, make inquiries. If you are not happy, go to the primary care trust.

By Sam McGregor

"I think it is very important to have the flu vaccination because you cannot fight off infections so well when you are older.

"Prevention is better than cure. My husband, Anthony, and I try to keep healthy and active, but I feel the jab is something that helps us through the winter."

Mrs Savage also pointed out that if she, and others like her, did not have the injection it would cost the NHS more in doctors' appointments, hospital treatment and medication to treat problems such as chest infections.

NHS Oxfordshire said the criteria for free flu vaccination was for anyone aged 65 and over or who had an underlying health condition.

A spokesman said: "Vaccination against seasonal flu is the best way to protect yourself.

"If you could see flu germs, you would see how quickly and how far they spread.

"Cold and flu germs can live on some surfaces for hours.

"To protect yourself and others this winter, always carry tissues with you and use them to catch your cough or sneeze.

"Bin the tissue and wash your hands."

John Radcliffe Hospital chief executive Sir Jonathan Michael is given his flu jab by Dr Evie Kemp

Axe gang in petrol station robbery

AXE-wielding robbers got away with hundreds of pounds in a raid on a petrol station in Steeple Aston

A 24-year-old man working at the village's Jet petrol station was confronted by three masked men. They threatened him with the axe and forced him to hand over the cash at 7.52pm on Sunday.

He was left with a cut to his arm which did not need stitches. Brian Weedon, who runs the Oxford Road business, said: "We've never had this in the 40 years I've been here.

"We are a local garage and we've got a lot of regular customers.

"The robbers got almost £300. I'm very angry, of course I am. They are just yobs as far as I am concerned."

The raiders, who were wearing balaclavas, gloves and hoods, were caught on CCTV installed at the garage.

Det Con Rebecca McCamley said: "This was clearly a frightening incident for the man who was working in the petrol station."

Raider sought

POLICE believe a local man may have tried to rob an estate shop in a "desperate and unplanned" attack.

At 1.30pm on Friday, September 30, a man went into the Co-op store, in Burchester Place, Nethercote, armed with a mallet and told the assistant to open the till.

Because he had his hand over his mouth, the cashier could not understand him. When she asked him to repeat what he said, he banged the mallet on the counter and then walked out of the shop.

Det Insp Steve Duffy said: "My thought is that this was a desperate and unplanned crime. It's quite likely that the suspect lives locally."

Contact police on 08458 505505.

Dennis Grant

Payback over plundered funds

A MAN who plundered a society's funds is set to lose almost £600,000 worth of his ill-gotten gains, including a holiday property in Northern Cyprus.

Dennis Grant's realisable assets include two houses in the UK, two cars and a villa and three plots of land in Turkish-controlled Cyprus, according to the Crown Prosecution Service.

The 63-year-old, of Upper Tadmarton, who was chief executive of the Cotswold Water Park Society when he stole about £700,000 of its funds, was jailed for four years and four months in July.

He had admitted six offences of fraud and deception.

He appeared at Gloucester Crown Court for a progress hearing in follow-up proceedings under the Proceeds of Crime Act.

Mary Harley, prosecuting, said the Crown would submit at the full hearing on October 11 that Grant benefited from crime by £700,000 and had realisable assets of £592,000 which could be confiscated under the Act.

Swans are killed

TWO swans were shot in the neck at a reservoir at Claydon. They were found beside Clattercote Reservoir on September 14 but the RSPCA only released details of the killings last week. It is an offence under the Wildlife and Countryside Act to injure or kill a wild bird.

RSPCA Inspector Annabelle Black said: "We want to find the person responsible.

"I would appeal to anyone who may have seen anyone acting suspiciously in the area, or who has heard of people taking pot shots at swans.

"People cannot be allowed to get away with this."

She urged anyone with information to call the charity on 0300 1234 999.

Charity funding deadline

CHARITABLE organisations across Oxfordshire are being reminded to apply for financial awards of up to £10,000 to support their projects.

The Banbury Cake's parent company, Gannett, hands out grants of between £5,000 and £10,000 twice a year from its charitable foundation.

Groups across the county have until 5pm on Friday, October 21, to make a bid for funding.

The grants, which total more than £4m across the UK, are designed to help a broad section of the population.

Organisations applying must be registered charities.

Gannett particularly values projects that will bring lasting benefit to the local community. Projects also favoured will demonstrate good planning and financial responsibility. Recent accounts must be submitted.

By Andrew Ffrench

However, awards will not be given to national charities or organisations that have received a Gannett grant within the last two years.

And state or privately-run schools, hospitals, animal charities, political or religious causes and day-to-day running costs are also excluded.

Driver hurt in getaway

A DELIVERY van driver was hurt when he fell from his vehicle as he tried to stop a thief from stealing it.

The 47-year-old man was delivering goods to a home in Wimborne Avenue, Banbury, at 2pm on Tuesday of last week, when the thief got into the driver's seat.

As he tried to stop the criminal speeding off in his white Ford Transit van, the driver fell, injuring his elbow and knee.

The van drove off along Orchard Way, into Warwick Road, and was found a short time later in Horley village.

The thief is described as being white, about 6ft tall, aged in his early 20s, with a medium build and short, shaved hair. He was wearing a dark, possibly black, hooded top, blue jeans and black gloves.

PC Louise Heffernan said: "Thankfully the victim wasn't seriously hurt in this incident and the vehicle has now been recovered."

Witnesses should call PC Heffernan on 0845 8 505 505 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

ChipsAway supports Help for Heroes

David Litchfield of ChipsAway in Banbury is set to embark upon a charitable challenge to raise funds for Help for Heroes.

David will be taking part in a sponsored Sky Dive in October. "The Sky Dive was a Birthday Present from my wife Nikki and we thought it would be great to use it to raise money for such a worth while charity! We are passionate about raising money and you will see us with our collection buckets and selling our wrist bands at all our Promotions!"

The event is part of a national campaign by leading repairer of automotive paintwork ChipsAway to raise tens of thousands of pounds for its chosen charity.

"Help for Heroes is a really great cause and is so important at the moment," said David. "The Sky Dive will be an excellent way to have fun and raise money for a good cause at the same time. I hope as many people as possible turn up to support me!"

Help for Heroes raises money to support members of the Armed Forces who have been wounded in the service of their country, providing direct practical support to servicemen and women, and their families.

Other events going on in the ChipsAway network nationwide include wearing wellies filled with jelly for the day, five-a-side football, sponsored swims, runs and charity auctions.

ChipsAway is the UK's leading repairer of minor damage to automotive paintwork, travelling to customers' premises in fully equipped mobile workshops to complete top quality repairs 'on-the-spot', within a matter of hours and at a fraction of the cost of traditional body shop methods.

Please help ChipsAway raise as much money as possible by sponsoring/ donating to this worthwhile cause.

Please help us to raise our £1000 target for Help the Heroes.

CAKE Leisure

Repackaged, same wrapping

JOHNNY ENGLISH REBORN (PG, 101 mins) Comedy/Action. Rowan Atkinson, Gillian Anderson, Dominic West, Rosamund Pike, Daniel Kaluuya, Richard Schiff, Stephen Campbell Moore, Pik Sen Lim, Tim McInnerny. Director: Oliver Parker.

Johnny English Repackaged might be a more fitting title for Oliver Parker's belated sequel to the 2003 comedy, which poked gentle fun at the image of British spies as debonair gents with a licence to kill.

Aside from the casting of rising star Daniel Kaluuya as Johnny's sidekick and a prominent role for a voice-controlled Rolls-Royce Phantom Coupe V16, Johnny English Reborn could have been shot directly after the original film and left to gather dust on a shelf marked "Straight To DVD Some Day".

While the new incarnation James Bond has been playing catch-up with Jason Bourne, Rowan Atkinson's secret agent continues to hark back to the Connery and Moore years.

He's out-dated and a chauvinist, dismissing the most obvious suspect for a shooting simply because it's a woman (Pik Sen Lim).

Action sequences unfold at pedestrian pace – literally in the case of a rooftop pursuit.

A car and motorcycle chase through London looks sluggish even with footage clearly speeded up.

Following a disastrous mission in Mozambique, Johnny (Atkinson) turns his back on MI7 and heads to a Tibetan retreat to learn that, "Mind must be master of body".

Section chief Pamela Thornton (Gillian Anderson) woos him back to help thwart an assassination attempt on the Chinese premier.

She pairs him up with rookie agent Tucker (Kaluuya), who lives in south London with his mother and finesses his gun skills by playing on his Xbox.

Johnny English is an old-fashioned, gently effervescent spy caper that amuses but rarely delights.

Atkinson's talent for physical humour delivers a couple of belly laughs, including a hilarious tussle between Johnny and the Chinese premier's secret assassin.

His contortions are pure Mr Bean while the rest of the cast keep straight faces.

A broken lever on a swivel chair, which causes the eponymous agent to rise and fall during an important meeting, is an old chestnut but director Parker roasts it to perfection.

The script lacks invention and dialogue feels flat, apart from the occasional zinging one-liner such as when Johnny tells disfigured gadget expert Patch Quartermain (Tim McInnerny), who uses a wheelchair, "Great to see... what's left of you".

Atkinson's co-stars do what they can with their two-dimensional roles as the sequel trundles towards the inevitable final showdown in a mountain-top hideout. After this second assignment, Johnny's licence-to-thrill has been revoked.

Tuning up for a regional final

A TEENAGER is hoping his daily music practice will pay off and he will win a place in the final of a national music contest.

Jamie Felton, 14, has already won Talent Oxford and Aylesbury's Got Talent, and now he has set his sights on wowing the judges at the Open Mic UK contest.

The teenager, who writes and performs tunes in his spare time, has already won a place in the regional finals of the competition.

Next month he will go head to head with other acts at the Birmingham NEC hoping to win a place at the final at the O2.

Jamie, of Ardley, who also plays in his school's Electric Guitar Orchestra, said: "I love to play covers but especially like to write my own songs that express my views and feelings."

Jamie, who wants to be a musician when he leaves school, said winning would be great "exposure" for his songs and would make all his hard work worthwhile.

He said: "I practise every day, all types of songs and guitar playing, but especially the two songs I have to perform, one is my own and one is a cover."

Open Mic UK is a national competition searching for the UK's best singers and is divided into three categories: 16 and under, 17-22 and 23 and over.

The winner will get a £30,000 recording contract.

Festival organisers cease trading

BIG Wheel Promotions, which ran the Harvest music festival, has ceased trading.

Harvest PR firm Toast and Big Wheel Promotions were unable to say whether next year's event would go ahead.

The festival, which was held for the first time last month, is hosted by former Blur bassist

Alex James at his Kingham home. Thousands of people attended this year's event to watch the likes of KT Tunstall, The Kooks and The Feeling.

Team's frailties exposed

BANBURY'S defence have now shipped ten goals in two games following a disastrous display in Saturday's Premier Division clash.

Their frailties were exposed when the unmarked Craig Duff headed Weymouth into the lead.

Banbury fought to try to get back on level terms and nearly made it just ten minutes later.

Will Green beat the offside trap and turned the ball into the path of Aaron Woodley, but his first-class effort was deflected for a corner. Green himself then had a good effort deflected for a fourth corner in a row in just two minutes as United piled on the pressure.

Banbury at last got their equaliser in the 37th minute.

■ Banbury Utd 1
(Walker 37)
■ Weymouth 5
(Duff 20, 42, Malsom 45+1, Byerley 81, 90+1)

Ben Polk sent in a great free-kick from the right which was headed across by Danny Edmond to Glenn Walker who fired home from three yards at the far post.

Banbury paid the price for a lack in concentration when, from a free-kick, Weymouth attacked up the left, and in a carbon copy of the first goal, Duff headed powerfully home, again unmarked on the right from a left wing cross, with Kemp in no man's land again.

The game went from bad to worse for Banbury when they again gave away a gift of a goal when

Sam Malsom was left in acres of space and he fired in a shot from the edge of the penalty area in first-half injury time to give the visitors a two-goal margin at the break.

In the second-half Weymouth did enough to protect their lead and ride the storm, but after the period of Banbury pressure, Warren Byerley took advantage of a stray back pass to slot the ball home in the 81st minute past a stranded Kemp.

The Weymouth scorer returned to complete United's embarrassment in the first minute of injury time when he got his second and Weymouth's fifth.

Banbury: Kemp, Stanbridge, Polk, Howell, Thackeray, Hutchcox, Edmond, Coleman, Green, Woodley (Kingston 78), Walker. Subs (not used): Eyre, Youngs, Peppiatt, Lamb.

Attendance: 353.

STARS with Claire Petulengro

Service provided by IMS Leeds LS1 8LB. Calls cost 61p per minute at all times

ARIES Mar 21-Apr 19
The aspect between the Sun and Saturn is making this an extremely unpredictable week. What begins as bad can be turned to good. It would serve you well to remember the saying that if you think you can win and if you think you can't you won't. Believe my friend, and anything you want can be yours before this month is out.

☎ 0906 585 4360

TAURUS Apr 20-May 20
You are going to have to do the work of others as the stars make many of the signs tired and lazy. The good news is that you can do it with your eyes shut and should be able to prove to yourself just how many options are really available to you. Give me a call now to hear why it's worth making peace with your enemies this week.

☎ 0906 585 4361

GEMINI May 21-Jun 20
You may not be willing to admit it but you are doing all you can to give a close one a hard time and unless you slow down you may just end up doing some permanent damage. Plenty of offers in love will be leaving single Geminis spoilt for choice this week. Call me now to hear how Saturn promises answers to those financial worries.

☎ 0906 585 4362

CANCER Jun 21-Jul 22
You need to watch out Cancer as it is going to be easy for you to be in the wrong place at the wrong time. This is not a good week to tell any white lies or to be doing something you shouldn't. The stars will reveal all to close ones if you behave. Phone me now to hear why you'll soon need to ensure that your passport is in date.

☎ 0906 585 4363

LEO Jul 23-Aug 22
Mars is an unpredictable planet to say the least and it is going to be pushing you to say something that you know will spark arguments. If what you know is not your business then keep quiet. You don't want someone washing your laundry in public too, do you Leo? Call me now to hear how love is about to hit hard and fast.

☎ 0906 585 4364

VIRGO Aug 23-Sep 22
You've spent so much of your time thinking about what you want that you have slightly got lost on the way to your dreams and ambitions. Someone that you thought you would never see again is going to be trying to make contact once more. Go slow. You have to if you want to form that all important base. Ring now for a gameplan.

☎ 0906 585 4365

LIBRA Sep 23-Oct 22
Make sure that you wear something nice over the coming days, for golden opportunities are going to be all around and you want to create a good first impression. Money is looking more flexible than it has been for a while and you can actually splash out on something with a clear conscience for once. Give me a ring now to hear why this is the ideal week to ask those with power for promotions.

☎ 0906 585 4366

SCORPIO Oct 23-Nov 21
You have got to decide who is more important, a loved one or the recent acquaintances you have made. You don't do anything by halves but your loyalty must lie with your heart and not with these new influences you have recently become so attached to. Phone me now to hear why family need handling with kid gloves this week.

☎ 0906 585 4367

SAGITTARIUS Nov 22-Dec 21
There's much that can be done to improve the quality of your life and a new timetable is required if you are to find the time for your own life and needs. You have been running about for so many other people that you have forgotten to give yourself any leisure and relaxation time Sagittarius. Phone now to hear why you can afford to be selfish.

☎ 0906 585 4368

CAPRICORN Dec 22-Jan 19
You have had an entertaining week to say the least and the stars have allowed you to see a lot of people in a brand new light. Most surprisingly, yourself. Advice you give to friends this week is likely to be taken, so speak with care. Scorpios provide the entertainment and seduction. Ring now to hear who your perfect match would be.

☎ 0906 585 4369

AQUARIUS Jan 20-Feb 18
New faces are going to be coming into your life in abundance and the planet Mars is going to be giving you the variety you have craved for so long. Look out for a string of compatible love matches making offers that will both shock and please you. Call now if you want to get ahead of the game and competition in the workplace.

☎ 0906 585 4370

PISCES Feb 19-Mar 20
Your charm is going to be opening doors for you that previously were shut. In fact, sex appeal Pisces is going to be giving you the power you need to make a major change with your life. Just don't make any promises you know you will not keep. Things must remain strictly business as you well know. Ring now and I'll help you achieve the impossible.

Fishing lure for house-hunters

ANGLERS could be hooked after viewing Bridge Lake House in Chacombe, which has its own fishing lake.

The single-storey four-bedroom house, which also comes with three acres of paddocks, a section of old railway line and a two-storey office/store room, goes under the hammer on October 20.

Agents Tayler & Fletcher say the property will be auctioned as two lots.

The house, set in three acres, carries a guide price of £490,000. The lake will be available separately, with a guide of

By Gill Oliver Property Writer

£95,000. Built from Hornton stone, the house includes a sitting room with wood burner and doors to patio, kitchen/dining room and study.

Other highlights include electronic gates, a garage and gardens with a patio, decking, fish pond, vegetable plot, kennels, shed, summer house and swimming pool.

Tayler & Fletcher says the spring-fed lake is well stocked with carp and has 19 fishing spots. These, let through day tickets, generate about £5,000 a year in fees.

The office/store is built under a railway bridge and includes an office/store area on the ground floor and an office and bathroom above.

The auction is at The Frogmill Hotel, near Andoversford, on Thursday, October 20, at 6pm.

Feel-good factor from new Leon

Health matters are something rarely touched on in this column, but bear with me it is relevant. I woke with what doctors routinely refer to as sudden onset lower back pain. Put like that it doesn't sound too bad, but trust me when you take 30 minutes just to lever yourself out of bed in the morning, it is not much fun.

Even when I managed to get up, it was no barrel of laughs, as whether I was standing, sitting or lying down made little difference to the dagger-like stabs of pain.

That was until I got behind the wheel of the Leon and eased myself gently into the driver's sports seat. With its supportive side bolsters, and a tweak of the lumbar adjustment, it immediately delivered a little much-appreciated relief.

What proved remarkable was that after a two-hour journey I literally hopped out of the car; far from cured, but feeling a whole lot better.

The feel-good factor delivered by the excellent seats in the Leon is reflected in every aspect of the five-door family car. Light on its feet, yet surprisingly solid at motorway speeds, the Leon is a taut, nimble and precise-handling hatchback.

By David Duffy

The Leon, especially in upmarket SE trim, is pretty well equipped, with a package of equipment that includes dual-zone climate control, eight-speaker MP3-compatible radio/CD with AUX-in and USB connectivity, steering wheel-mounted audio controls and electronic differential lock.

But the Copa trim level adds another £1,000-plus worth of equipment for nothing. That means the car comes with the SEAT 'Media System' — more of that in a moment — along with rear parking sensors, light and rain sensors and an auto-dimming rear-view mirror.

The SEAT Media System fitted to the Leon SE Copa includes not only a touchscreen satellite navigation system with 3D mapping and dynamic route guidance and an SD card slot for MP3 playback, but a DAB digital radio tuner and Bluetooth audio streaming connectivity.

The Leon Copa versions are offered with a simple choice of a petrol or a turbodiesel engine, both delivering 105 horsepower.

Its compact footprint belies the space available and by folding the rear seats flat, I managed to move a large flat-screen TV, a DVD player, a wooden TV stand, two chairs, a flat-pack dining room table and several other bags with no problem, though I confess to enlisting some help in shifting it all.

Latest motoring news in brief

■ Ford has made several changes to its Fiesta supermini, improving the specification across the range as well as increasing the number of options available to buyers. In addition, Ford has added a new Metal special edition with a potent 1.6-litre petrol engine. Handling has been sharpened too. Prices start at £13,895 for the Edge Econetic, £14,445 for the Zetec Econetic and £15,645 for the Titanium Econetic, with the Metal edition starting at £15,695.

■ Top Gear Live's new indoor track will play host to an array of Group B Rally cars — including the MG Metro 6R4, Peugeot 205 T16, Audi Quattro, and Lancia 037 — in a series of head-to-head battles. During the 1980s, these powerful cars competed in the World Rally Championship. Top Gear Live will see these incredible cars take centre stage at the NEC Birmingham (November 11-13) and ExCel London (Nov 24-27). Tickets start at £49, for more information or to book tickets, visit website topgearlive.co.uk or call 0871 230 5588.
